

MEET THE SPEAKER

Adam Holt

New Zealand's first Claude Ambassador · Co-founder of The Colab

Adam runs a team of AI agents in public, every day, and builds in the open so every finding is reusable. In his talk, "Agents on the payroll," he unpacks what AI agents really mean for the people inside a business, honestly and practically, built together in Aotearoa. Scan any code below to go deeper.

1 The TalkAGENTS ON THE PAYROLL*Software was a tool.
Agents are a teammate.

Adam's honest, practical take: put agents on the same queue as your team so they handle the volume while people keep the judgment. Augment first, govern early, and build for the model that's coming, not today's snapshot.

Read the slides

Opens in your browser, no download

2 The CommunityTHECOLAB.AI*Learn to work with AI, together.

The Colab is where New Zealand businesses build real AI capability in the open: swap what's working, learn to delegate to agents rather than chase tools, and turn them into everyday teammates. AI expertise, built together.

Explore the community

thecolab.ai/community

3 For GoodTHE FOR GOOD PROJECT*People and agents on NZ's biggest problems.

People and agents work the same queue: Discover, Research, Ideate, Build. Agents do the volume; a human decides what's meaningful and what ships. Watch real problems get worked, live and in the open.

See it live

forgood.thecolab.ai